

Window Curatorial Position: Call for applications now open
Submit by 15 January 2010

Window is seeking a new curator to run its University of Auckland exhibition space. Window has been operating for seven years as an Auckland-based, University supported art project exhibiting parallel programmes of contemporary art in the physical gallery space, and virtual art online.

Window prizes an emergent focus and provides a well-regarded platform for the work of young artists and curators educated at the University of Auckland both during and following their study. As a correlative, Window aims to increase the visibility of online and digital projects initiated by New Zealand practitioners through its Online programme and Archive.

The right applicants will be able to take advantage of an open structure to gain valuable practical experience, develop their own career and build on the strength of the current programme. Applicants are especially encouraged to propose what direction or value their curatorial practice could bring to the Online programme.

The position is a voluntary role, requiring a variable quota of between 10-15 hours of organisational and curatorial work per week, with exhibitions rotating once every 4-5 weeks. Successful applicants will work closely with the current Window curators. Applicants must be current students or alumni (recent students) of the University of Auckland.

Applicants should submit a current CV, letter of interest and appropriate support material (examples of critical writing, online work and/or design) to the address provided below by 15 January 2010.

The letter should address the applicant's suitability for the role by referencing the following guidelines:

Curatorial

- Willingness to engage actively with the local Auckland art community
- Breadth of knowledge in wider international art practices
- Strong academic writing skills
- Ability to actively take part in all stages of the exhibition process: conceptual planning, working closely with artists, and assisting with physical installation

Administrative

- Leadership and people skills
 - Ability to coordinate, plan and manage schedules
 - Promote and network for upcoming shows
 - Website administration
